Cancer United Legacy Information Pack

Thank you for thinking of Cancer United's future. When you include Cancer United in your will, you help ensure that people living with and beyond cancer will always have somewhere to turn for strength, friendship and purpose.

Your legacy keeps CUFITTER classes running, OUTSINGCANCER voices singing, and our support services growing for generations to come.

Legacy intentions are confidential and there is no obligation to disclose. Cancer United will never offer legal advice or recommend a particular firm (as per Charity Commission advice).

Your information and intentions will always be treated in strictest confidence. We encourage you to seek professional, independent advice, and Cancer United will never ask to see your will.

If you already have a will

1. Contact your solicitor

   Ask to add a codicil — a short document that updates your existing will.

2. Provide our charity details

   Use the suggested wording provided below.

3. Store both documents safely

   Tell your executors where they are kept.

4. Let us know

   If you're comfortable, share your decision so we can thank you properly.

If you are making a will for the first time

1. Speak to a solicitor

   Contact a professional will writer for guidance.

2. Decide the type of gift

   Choose a share of your estate, a set amount, or a specific item.

3. Include our full details

   Use the wording below so your gift reaches us correctly.

4. Let us know

   If comfortable, share your decision and what inspired your gift.

5. Share your wishes

   Tell us which area of our work you most want to see thrive so we can honor your intentions.

Our Plans for Tomorrow

Expanding CUFITTERXTRA online so anyone in the UK can access cancer-safe exercise.

Creating additional specialist classes for different cancer types for prehabilitation and recovery stages.

Expanding support groups for young adults and parents affected by cancer.

Working with clinicians so every patient can be referred directly to Cancer United for the help and support that is vital for their needs.

Your legacy can make these ambitions real — keeping our community strong for years to come.

Thank You

Leaving a gift in your will is a personal and powerful act of kindness. We're deeply grateful that you're considering it.
